

Consultant – Local Government

- Consolidate and grow your career in a learning environment.
- Work closely with our consultants and leaders to deliver project-based solutions.
- Join a growing team, an organisation committed to making a difference.

About Us / Ko wai mātou

Morrison Low is a leading consulting firm specialising in advising the public sector in Australia and New Zealand. Based in our Auckland office you will be part of a professional, friendly, supportive team with the opportunity to learn and expand the role according to your talents.

We are a workplace that encourages growth, flexibility, and creativity, as well as a company culture that champions inclusion, diversity, and overall employee wellbeing.

About the Role / Te whai waahi mai

This is a role for a generalist, but open to many professional specialisations. The role would focus on the waste area and therefore we are seeking someone with an interest in growing their career in the solid waste, environmental management, or sustainability fields.

Working closely with our experienced consultants across the business, you will be part of a team that delivers strategic projects to a range of clients. You will be financially literate and familiar with what it takes to deliver a project in the local government or a project delivery role in the broader public sector context.

This includes:

- Data analysis
- Project milestone management
- Effective report writing and presentation skills.

You have a proven ability to think creatively and strategically, and if you're self-motivated and passionate about local government and public policy, then talk to us!

About You / Ko wai koe

You will be intuitive, with strong problem-solving skills, and able to manage multiple deadlines. You love to take responsibility for delivering solutions and enjoy being an integral part of a small team.

This is an opportunity to grow your career in an environment that provides ongoing learning and support, where you use and develop your knowledge and experience as part of a high performing team across a range of clients.

To be successful in the role you will have:

- 5+ years' experience working in the public sector, or a consultancy.
- The ability to produce professional written communication, from emails to proposals and technical reports.
- Project based work skills and the ability to prioritise and manage workload.
- Degree qualification (min) or grad qualification (preferred) in a relevant field – public policy, finance, economics, project management, urban planning, engineering, or design.

Remuneration will be negotiated depending on experience, current skills, and qualifications.

To register your interest, please apply and send your CV and application letter via Seek. Please detail your skills and experience and explain why you would be the best candidate for the position. No agencies please.
