

Senior Consultant, Waste – Auckland

- Bring your public policy and strategy expertise to our successful consultancy.
- Build tailored bespoke solutions for clients to inform strategic decisions.
- Join a growing team, an organisation committed to making a difference.

About Us / Ko wai mātou

Morrison Low is a leading consulting firm specialising in advising the public sector in New Zealand and Australia with offices in Auckland, Wellington, and Sydney. Based in our Auckland office you will be part of a growing team providing professional advice and delivering tangible results.

Our people are flexible, hardworking, and committed. We invest in our people. We take pride in the fact that we are a workplace that encourages growth, flexibility, and creativity, as well as a company culture that champions inclusion, diversity, and overall employee wellbeing.

About the Role / Te whai waahi mai

This is a role for an experienced public policy and strategy specialist, preferably with a background in solid waste, environmental management, or sustainability.

You will apply your strategic thinking, problem solving, and business acumen as you consider issues and develop solutions that create efficiency, deliver insights, and add value to client's business.

Within the waste sector we are seen as the market leader, being involved in a wide range of projects involving feasibility studies, business cases, strategy and policy development, and procurement through to service delivery.

The position is Auckland based but will involve work on projects for clients in a range of locations and potential associated domestic travel.

About You / Ko wai koe

You have initiative, maturity, and the ability to articulate and manage projects and deliverables. You readily understand the business challenges of local government, including understanding multi-faceted and conflicting goals, and non-financial objectives delivered within tight budgets.

To be successful in the role, you will:

- Be degree qualified with around 10 years' experience in solid waste, environmental management, or sustainability, ideally with public sector exposure.
- Be able to build enduring client relationships, develop trust and identify their needs and deliverables.
- Write and deliver accurate, engaging reports and presentations tailored to your audience.

- Manage all project aspects, from planning, creation of content, time and resources to delivery.
- Help the business grow through delivering results and long-term business development.

Remuneration will be negotiated based on the successful candidate's experience, background and fit within our current business.

If this sounds like the right opportunity for you or you would like to find out more about it, please apply now by sending your CV and cover letter outlining your interest for this position.

Please note all applicants must have the legal right to work in New Zealand.

No agencies please.