The Opportunity / Te Whiwhinga mahi

You will work closely with our consultants and leaders from across the business as part of a team that aims to help clients:

- achieve their potential
- design solutions that work, and
- deliver tangible results and outcomes for their customers.

About You / Ko wai koe

You will be intuitive, with strong problem-solving skills and business acumen. You are self-motivated with a high degree of initiative and energy.

You will have experience in some, but not necessarily in all the following: analysis, problem solving, financial modelling, policy or strategy development, business case writing and procurement.

You will enjoy working with people from a range of backgrounds and professional disciplines and will have excellent interpersonal skills.

To be successful in this role, you will:

- Be degree qualified with around 10 years' experience in solid waste, environmental management, or sustainability, and having had some experience working within the public sector or a consultancy environment
- Be an excellent listener who will be trusted by clients to identify their needs and deliverables
- Have superior written communication skills, and have experience delivering accurate and engaging written and visual content that is tailored to the audience, along with confidence in presenting these ideas to clients
- Be comfortable self-managing your work, juggling competing demands and deadlines, and prioritising work efficiently
- Enjoy networking, meeting new people and building relationships
- Want to learn new skills and grow your career.

The position is Auckland based but will involve work on projects for clients in a range of locations and potential associated domestic travel.

Remuneration will be negotiated based on the successful candidate's experience, background and fit within our current business.

If this sounds like the opportunity you have been waiting for, please apply now by sending your CV and cover letter outlining your fit for this position.

Please note all applicants must have the legal right to work in New Zealand.

No agencies please.
